Russell was born in Toledo, Ohio during a winter storm on January 22, 19(edited for content). Russell is a graduate (after 5 football seasons) from the University of Tennessee with a degree in Civil Engineering.

Russel is the former Public Works Director for Marietta. In 2003, he jumped into the consultant world to Chattanooga. He opened the Chattanooga office for Croy in early 2019.

Russell and Debbi reside on Suck Creek Mountain (don't ask) as empty nesters with their dog, Oscar.

Walter Thomas Edward Wade III grew up in the town of Parrott, Ga, home to 153 of his closest friends. He graduated from Auburn University and began his career in Knoxville, Tennessee in the consulting engineering field.

Eddie joined the Croy's Atlanta office in 2014 and works with clients across the Southeast to provide built environment solutions that truly enhance the communities where we live. He brings an energetic, positive, can-do attitude to Croy, and was recently named Georgia's Young Engineer of the Year. Although he lives in the "big city" of Atlanta, he still holds strong to his rural Georgia roots.
